

Hudson River Valley Greenway Link Public Meeting

The New York Metropolitan Transportation Council (NYMTC) is leading a planning study for a multi-use bicycle and pedestrian trail along the eastern shore of the Hudson River Valley, connecting the northern reaches of Manhattan to the City of Yonkers. The purpose of the Hudson River Valley Greenway Link study is to plan for a facility that will link communities across the region, provide access to important destinations and bring trail users closer to nature.

This public meeting will provide an opportunity for you to learn about the project and will include a presentation by the project team and a question and answer session.

For information about the Hudson River Valley Greenway Link, please visit the project's Web site at http://www.nymtc.org/project/bike_walk/Greenways.html. There you will find project documents and reports, as well as summaries of previous project meetings. For additional information about the project, please contact Howie Mann of the New York Metropolitan Transportation Council (NYMTC) at hmann@dot.state.ny.us.

Please RSVP to rwalsh@hshassoc.com.
